To Whom It May Concern:

When considering whom to call to work on a huge school project that we needed done, Chris Green of Visual Concepts was the first person that came to mind.

From the onset of the project to its completion, I found Chris to be professional, knowledgeable and fair. He walked us through every step of the process and followed up to ensure that everything was in perfect working order. We now have a state-of-the-art sound system, and we are excited that parents, students and staff will be able to better enjoy school performances.

I highly recommend Chris Green of Visual Concepts and would gladly speak to anyone about his work at the school.
